Farewell Address

Mayor Ellen Dickson

Good Evening Everyone! It has been one of highlights of my life to be your Mayor and tonight I want to focus on some people and accomplishments.

I was cleaning out the Mayor's Office when I came across this pamphlet dedicating this building on May 7, 1995. It includes a letter from Mayor Janet Whitman to the Mayor of Summit in 2094. It was placed in a time capsule to be opened that year and we are not sure where that capsule was placed. Here is quote from what Mayor Whitman wrote. It applies today as much as it did then.

"...I know that volunteer commitment must still be strong in our City as it is the overwhelming characteristic of Summit. Volunteers run our level of government and volunteers run the myriad of non-profit organizations, churches and synagogues, hospitals and schools which are the strength and fiber of this community. We have outstanding people who donate their time and talent to their favorite cause and the expertise, resources and services contributed by these dedicated volunteers could never be purchased."

Tonight is a night to honor some of those retiring volunteers. Two Summit residents I am highlighting tonight are Karen Olson and Kathleen DiChiara. Karen founded a national nonprofit organization here in Summit called Family Promise. It utilizes religious institutions to house homeless families and currently has 170,000 volunteers nationwide. Kathleen founded the Community Food Bank of New Jersey in 1975 in the back of her car. To date, they have distributed over half a billion pounds of food from headquarters in Hillside. These women saw the need and through their vision, effort and determination, they created national nonprofits. They made a real difference.

Here are some interesting facts and figures from my four-year term. There was $338 million in construction reinvestment, nearly 10,000 building permits in a city with approximately 6,000 homes!

People, residents and business owners continued to reinvest. There was $164 million in residential construction; 75 new homes built; and 185 additions made at a total investment of $50 million or just over $250,000 per addition. There was $174 million in downtown and commercial reinvestment. There were 38,000 building inspections by the way and home resales were up 10% in 2015.

As Mayor, I served on the Planning Board. Under Municipal Land Use Law the Mayor is encouraged to serve on the Planning Board. As the elected leader of the community you are expected to have an opinion and voice in the City's future. This role became very important with the sale of the Merck campus to Celgene. As Celgene has purchased Merck's property, we now have a Celgene East and Celgene West Campus. Celgene will be dedicating a new building on the East Campus on January 19. Celgene has been very complimentary toward our Planning Board and City staff. We are fortunate to have this rapidly growing bio-tech Fortune 500 company headquartered in Summit.

Our downtown is the envy of most cities. But we know there are struggles to keep storefronts filled. As of yesterday, retail (first floor) occupancy was 93.7%. Regent Bank will fill Citibank's vacancy. The Office reopened to hour long waits for a table over the holidays. Piattino Restaurant will open in the spring where Anna's Restaurant was on Union Place. A high-end nail salon will open in the former Art Studio space on Union Place. Vicki Pop Hair Salon will be opening on Springfield Ave. and two more restaurants to open on Maple St. including Rosalita's Mexican Restaurant. As we know a meal at restaurant, a haircut or exercise cannot be bought on the internet. It is a constant struggle to find the right mix of in store merchandise and the internet, but many stores are doing both. Cowgirl in the Sand and Murray and Finn have a healthy online presence that compliments their store fronts.

In December, Nationwide online sales were up 27%. Our downtown does well despite this trend. Small Business Saturday and the Holiday Candlelight Stroll run by Summit Downtown Inc. this past fall were very successful events.

Let's talk about the schools. Our new Superintendent, June Chang, is here tonight and will complete his first year in March. Summit schools are thriving under his leadership. A new principal, Damen Cooper, has started at Lawton C Johnson Summit Middle School and shortly we will have a new principal at the High School. Just yesterday, yet another ranking system, niche.com, ranked Summit schools #6 in New Jersey and #68 in the United States.

Lou Pepe, our esteemed School Business Administrator, and head of the statewide organization of administrators said yesterday that our facilities are in the best shape ever. The 2014 decision by the Board of School Estimate, which I chaired, voted to spend $17 million on school projects and these have largely been completed.

The Jefferson School expansion is particularly stunning as it is tied to the history of Thomas Jefferson and Monticello with its iconic and symbolic rotunda. This campus also ties into the Family Aquatic Center, the ball field and Hidden Valley Park. This is one of Summit's gems and it will get lots of use over the years. The Franklin School construction ties into the time period of the architecture and blends smoothly into the neighborhood.

Still, our most significant investment is in our teachers. The recent contract adds $1 million a year for teacher salary increases to the school budget.

Our most important volunteer position is on the Board of Education. Their expertise and experience is invaluable. They do an exemplary job and deserve to serve two terms. I reappointed former Mayor Glatt's appointees, which guaranteed each Board member two three year terms. The current Board was unanimous in their choice of June Chang and settled the teacher's contract in record time. I think our appointed Board is one of the best in the State.

Our tuition based full day kindergarten is up to six classrooms with the ability to go to eight. This serves the demonstrated need and helps preserve the many private programs in Summit.

CITY ADMINISTRATION IN TRANSITION - Last year we had four major retirements and a resignation. They were Chris Cotter, our City Administrator and former Fire Chief; David Hughes, City Clerk and 40 year employee; Joe Houck, Fire Chief; Beth Kinney, Head of Department of Community Services; and Scott Olson, CFO. I cried with each announcement. Our new team formed over the last six months. Michael Rogers is our new City Administrator. Rosemary Licatese was promoted to City Clerk. Eric Evers was promoted to Fire Chief. Paul Cascais was promoted to Head of Community Services and Marge Gerba was promoted to CFO. We made it through the transition with a limited number of bumps along the way.

The Police Department is under the leadership of our highly regarded Chief, Robert Weck. During my tenure, community policing has been a priority of both of us. The Chief continues to report that all the right numbers were up and all the right numbers were down. We have the best police department in Union County.

The Fire Department successfully transitioned to Chief Eric Evers and Deputy Chief Don Nelson who is now the Office of Emergency Management Coordinator. Remember the Fire Department not only provides fire protection but emergency medical care, technical rescue, investigations and fire prevention inspections. The Department responds to over 2,500 calls per year.

The Library has been rejuvenated and under the leadership of Susan Permahos. In 2015, the Library sponsored 1,024 programs for children, teens and adults and close to 20,000 attended. The circulation of library materials, electronic and traditional, totaled 300,300 items last year. A total of 206,000 people visited the Library. On Sunday, March 5, at 2pm; there will be a lecture about Downton Abbey with English tea served. This is the day before the final episode.

Department of Community Services / DCS has had its hands full this year with the Downtown Project and various road projects, including Deforest Avenue.

Department of Community Programs – Due to the warm weather, the Tatlock Field tennis courts replacement project is near completion and should be open this spring. Thank you to the Summit Tennis Association for the very generous $100,000 pledge.

The Community Center fund raising effort kicked off with the announcement of the Investors Bank founding pledge of $250,000 and the campaign continues to be well received. The building is in the design phase.

The Memorial Field Stream Project is near completion and the proposal for the Cornog Field House will be presented to Common Council shortly.

I give many thanks to Rita McNany of Parking Services for her continued efforts dealing with parking. We were an early adapter with the park mobile app two years ago. Congratulations to Michael Rogers and Rita for making Summit the first city in the country to try the virtual parking garage with the help of Uber. The Uber holiday promotion was a success with early reports indicating hundreds took advantage of this special holiday promotion. We hope to continue the service in our trendsetting city. We still to have a parking shortage but are looking to alternatives to a parking garage.

Communications: The shifting nature of communication was very apparent to me over the ten years I have served Summit on Council and as Mayor. Social media has become a powerful force and great communication vehicle. For instance, I have run my own website for the last five years. I have 2500 followers on twitter, 2100 friends on Facebook and I do Instagram for fun. The City has a Chief Information Officer, a website, Swift reach and Nixel alerts, smart 911, we do mailings, etc. Still, some do not receive our messages. However, the City's website had 18,500 visits last month. When the new website is launched, the number of visits should easily hit 22,000 a month. The City's Facebook page, for the week December 21 to 27, had 19,766 visits and this was before the bear!

Just before Christmas, the Brownie Troop of Jefferson School came to sing to the Mayor and city employees. Amy Cairns Harrison, our Public Information Officer, did a short video, which we posted. "Frosty the Snowman" had 1,800 views. This is the power of social media.

While being Mayor, some of my favorite projects to have come to fruition are:

- The Community Garden, which is thriving thanks to the City, the YMCA and Overlook Hospital
- The Summit Conservancy is ready to be built as soon as the lease with Union County is straightened out. This project involves building a permanent structure for free cycling at the Transfer Station

- Our Trails Projects by the Passaic River spearheaded by many volunteers increase our local opportunities for outdoor recreation

Lastly, I got to bring a lot of couples together. In these past four years, I officiated over 150 weddings during the past four years.

This Mayor and Council have improved the City's infrastructure, invested in the schools and maintained our AAA bond rating from three rating agencies. Summit is the only city to receive such a rating in New Jersey. This has been done with an average 1% tax increase for the last four years to support city services and the schools.

I leave knowing the state of the City is strong and the spirit of its citizens is remarkable. The future remains excellent. I wish the new Council and Mayor all the best.

Happy New Year Everyone!

State of the City Address
by Mayor Nora Radest

January 5, 2016

I am honored and deeply grateful for the opportunity to be Mayor of our great city. I would like to begin by recognizing Mayor Dickson for her nine years of service to our city government; her belief in and love for our city has never wavered. Thank you, Ellen. I would also like to recognize departing council members Rich Madden, Al Dill and Greg Drummond. All of them have given generously of their time and talents. A sincere thank you for their dedication and tradition of service. I would also like to recognize our new council members, David Naidu, Mary Ogden and Richard Sun, as well as our incumbents, Mike McTernan, Sandy Lizza, Robert Rubino, and Pat Hurley. I look forward to working with all of you.

My campaign was based on my belief that a strong mayor is a good listener, a clear communicator, and a hands-on presence in the community. As I worked through the appointment process, I looked for volunteers who embodied these important values. These are not Democrat or Republican values; these are Summit values. I have seen them in action over and over again, in the bi-partisan presence on all of our volunteer boards and committees. I could not be more proud of this. True synergy depends on finding the best person to fit each job. Summit thrives when we incorporate the wisdom and experience of every sector of the city in its governance.

Over the past year I spoke with many voters about communication and effective listening, and how every resident in town should have an opportunity to be heard. Communication is a two-way street. I intend to do my part to make sure residents are informed about matters which affect them. In addition, I have given much thought to specific ways in which I can encourage Summit residents to share their ideas and concerns with me. I will have office hours at City Hall during the day and in the evening each week. Also, I will begin a monthly weekend open-house, in various public locations around the city, that I am calling "Meet the Mayor." I encourage everyone, young and old, to join me at these open houses. I hope to begin a dialogue that will last throughout my term as Mayor, bringing out themes that need to be addressed, and inspiring those sitting on the sidelines to consider how they can get involved. Finally, to further improve communication, the city is rolling out a new more user-friendly city website in February, which will allow for easy contact with city departments and personnel. I applaud the vision and efforts of the recent council and city officials in making this change.

My first order of substantive business will be to work with the Planning Board to initiate a re-examination of our Master Plan. State law requires that a re-examination occur every 10 years; the last time was in 2006. We must take action this year, and use this opportunity to think outside the box — envisioning a community that enjoys and thoroughly uses its public spaces, and that provides housing options for each stage of life.

Taking the right bold steps now will propel Summit into a new age of prosperity, if we have the foresight and political will to do it. For this process to be truly productive, it requires a concerted, community-wide effort. One of Summit's most valuable resources is its people, and we need to harness this intellectual capital, as we create a blueprint for Summit's next century of intelligent growth.

As for the state of the City right now, it will be no surprise to hear that we are very, very fortunate. We have one of the safest cities in New Jersey, perhaps the United States, and our police officers and fire fighters are trained for every eventuality. Our Nixle and Swift Reach safety alert systems are effective, and widely used. Our challenge is to make sure that we get every single citizen signed up. If you haven't signed up for emergency alerts, please go to the City's website where you can access the registration page. I encourage residents to reach out to neighbors, especially the elderly, and spread the word.

Our schools, thanks to the tireless efforts of our Board of Education, Superintendent Chang and a stellar faculty and staff, continue to excel. Our major responsibility at the moment is to continue to work, in a fiscally responsible manner, toward a goal of universal full-day kindergarten. Investment in education pays off not just in the lives of our children, but in the health and vibrancy of our community—as we can see by one of our newly elected council members, whose inspiration to service began in high school. In addition, if not most obviously, a reputation for educational excellence has an enormous impact on our property values. But we need to reinvest in our schools not only to keep pace with neighboring districts. We have been entrusted with the responsibility to prepare our students to meet future challenges in a complex and rapidly changing world. Absent an investment in quality programs that generate strong results, we will fall behind and fail our best resource, our children.

Our fiscal health is strong. We have benefited from decades of prudent stewardship by our able City Administrators. We have also benefited from the efforts of my predecessors in encouraging shared services with surrounding municipalities. The Joint Dispatch Service among Summit, Millburn and New Providence is successfully underway. A new opportunity for reducing expenses and taking advantage of economies of scale may be found in the Public Works Department, and I intend to pursue this possibility vigorously.

Of course our city also, inevitably, faces some challenges. Our downtown merchants are struggling, due to online competition and the proximity of the Short Hills Mall. Summit Downtown, Inc., recognizing that the downtown needs a new look at its marketing, has hired a retail recruiter. But more needs to be done. With vision, leadership, and genuine cooperation, our business community will play a hugely constructive role, advancing its own interests as well as our collective community desire for a vibrant downtown. The permitting process at the Department of Community Services needs to be smoother and more efficient, and I'm happy to say that work has begun. Last, but not least, we must settle the parking issue. In reading prior state of the city addresses, parking is mentioned as an issue to be solved every year - let's finally do something other than commission another study. I may not have the answer, but I am determined to bring stakeholders together in an open and transparent manner and find one. Let's have a contest of ideas and may the best idea win.

And along with challenges come opportunities. During the campaign I talked about creating a citizen's task force to study our fiscal relationship with Union County. It is my goal to make sure the County recognizes Summit as the strong and influential city it is, rather than as an open checkbook. To accomplish this, I intend to take a two-pronged approach. I will strengthen the lines of communication with the Union County freeholders, building and maintaining working relationships by meeting with them on a regular basis. And I will build a coalition of like-minded Union County communities, committed to working together to control the County's ever-increasing tax demands.

Finally, we need to consider the thorny subject of property values. Our last reassessment was more than twenty years ago, and our values are out of date. Defending tax appeals is costly, and overall we have a general fairness issue across the community that needs to be addressed. In addition, we need to put into place a rolling mechanism that will keep our values current and equitable, and prevent us from having to incur the expense and controversy that accompanies every reassessment effort.

In conclusion, my heartfelt thanks to the city staff that have been welcoming and so generous with their time and talents, helping me get up to speed during this transition period. I'm looking forward to working with you. The more intimately I get to know Summit, the more I understand how special it is. We are its stewards, and we must do everything in our power to leave it better than we found it. We have to make sure everyone in Summit feels that they have a strong voice in our community. These things are possible. I am committed to do my best to build upon the accomplishments of the past, and to work hard on your behalf for the future.

Thank you, and happy new year.

Summit Historical Minute - The Summit Diner
Presented at the January 19, 2016 Common Council Meeting
Presented by Tristan Cort, Senior - Summit High School

The summit diner was originally built in 1938 on union place and summit ave by the Jerry O'Mahoney diner company to take the place of an older diner. Today, the summit diner is considered by the independent press "the most distinctive in new jersey, a state known for its diner culture." Additionally the diner has the prestige of having earned a spot on the national register of historic places. While the builder was visiting the diner during construction he took such a fancy to summit that he would regularly visit the town. He spent his final days in summit and in overlook hospital. He would consider the summit diner to be the nicest diner his company ever created. Today the summit diner is currently the oldest operating diner in the state of New Jersey. Throughout the diners history many people have passed through its chrome deco door including Rex Ryan, Jim Cramer, Meryl Streep, and Al Pacino among many others. Additionally, Al Pacino also shot scenes from his movie City Hall at the summit diner. Legend has it that Ernest Hemingway was once a regular at the Summit Diner.
